Veteran NC Writer Authors New Book of Heartwarming Stories

November 12, 2008 – Parson Place Press is pleased to announce the publication of Good News from Indonesia: Heartwarming Stories from the Land of the Tsunami. This jacketed hard cover book will both inspire and encourage you with heartwarming stories of faith and triumph over hardship and persecution in a land of equatorial splendor.

Author and publisher Rev. Michael White says, “Of all the books I’ve published thus far, this one has certainly been one of the most inspiring and encouraging. These stories most definitely deserve to be read by everyone everywhere.”

Since 1995, Perry Thomas and his wife have lived in the Raleigh/Cary area of North Carolina, but before that they spent thirty years as missionaries in Indonesia. The personal sacrifices they made while raising their two sons in a place so distant from their own homeland is testimony to the deep and abiding dedication they have for their Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. Yet this new book isn’t about the Thomases. It’s about Indonesians whose paths crossed theirs. Perry Thomas has written more than sixty books under various names, including Exploring Church History: 20 Centuries of Christ’s People (World/Nelson, 2005), as well as writing numerous articles for various Christian magazines and newspapers.

Your heart will be truly warmed as you read these personal interest stories about people of all ages coming to faith in Jesus Christ. You will find yourself being subtly educated about the Indonesian people as well, for this book is chock-full of historical facts, geography, cultural insight, and religious and spiritual understanding about Indonesia. This is truly a timeless book about Christian missions that you will want to share with all of your family and friends for years to come. Your vicarious missionary experience begins here!

To schedule interviews or speaking engagements with Mr. Thomas, please use the contact information at the top of this page.
